MUCH BETTER.

DECIDED IMPROVEMENT IN THE CONDITION OF THE PRESIDENT.

He relishes and retains all the Food his System requires—The Glandular Swelling Receding. Etc., Etc., Etc.

[illegible] Aug. 19.—[illegible]

11 A. M.—[illegible] and the pulse [illegible] quantity has been [illegible] inflammation [illegible] gradually subsiding.

12:30 P. M.—The president's condition has steadily improved during the last 24 hours. The [illegible] swelling is evidently subsiding, and it has not pained him since last night. He is taking to-day an increased quantity of solid food by the mouth, which he relished and produces no gastric irritation. His pulse is now 100, temperature [illegible], respiration 18. [illegible] left on the 1:30 P. M. train for New York. Dr. Agnew is expected to-morrow night.

Dr. Bliss says that the patient continues to improve. During the day he has had [illegible] extract administered by means of enema in addition to 10 ounces of [illegible] and milk given [illegible].

At Midday.

A midday bulletin shows a very favorable condition for the president and has inspired renewed hope. Dr. Boynton, who came from the president's room at 12 o'clock, said that he was better than he was early this morning and steadily improving. The swelling of the gland has receded, and now causes no pain, and the doctors consider that [illegible] is now virtually over. The president has taken more nourishment to-day and his stomach grows stronger. It is believed that in several days he can take solid food. At the white house a most hopeful feeling prevails.

6:30 P. M. (official).—The president has been easy during the afternoon, and the favorable conditions reported in the last bulletin continue. The swollen parotid gland has not been painful. His temperature is the same and pulse rather less frequent than at this hour yesterday. Pulse 10[illegible], temperature 100, respiration 18.

To-Day's Symptoms.

The president is better this morning. His physicians say that he has continued to improve and they regard the swelling of the parotid gland as about conquered. Surgeons and all others at the White House feel very hopeful to-day. The quantity of nourishment administered is being steadily increased and his stomach retains and digests it. The president's bowels are acting regularly and naturally.

Getting Better.

11 P. M.—The president's condition to-day has been decidedly better than any day since the unfavorable symptoms of Monday last manifested themselves. He has slept more to-day than usual and appears much refreshed on awakening from slumber. While the glandular inflammation has not entirely disappeared it is thought that it is less irritated from the fact that the patient does not experience so much pain. Another unquestionable feature denoting improvement in the tone of the president's stomach, which has not shown any gastric disturbance. Members of the cabinet and all others who called during the day have left the mansion obviously much encouraged. The air of solemnity which has prevailed at the white house for the past few days has given place to a decidedly better feeling. It is now generally conceded that inflammation of the parotid gland does not in this case indicate pyæmia, and is due entirely to the patient's debilitated condition. Not a word of a despondent character has been uttered to-day by those having access to the president's apartments. Said one of the attending surgeons this evening: "The president has made a sensible improvement to-day."

Sanitary Investigation of the White House.

At the invitation of Col. Rockwell, the commissioner of public buildings and grounds, Colonel Waring and his assistant from Newport, R. I., acknowledged experts in sanitary matters, are now in the city for the purpose of making a thorough examination of the sewerage and drainage of the Executive Mansion, with a view of ascertaining what improvement is necessary to put the house in a perfect sanitary condition.

An Impertinent Doctor.

Dr. Bliss says that Dr. Pomerine, of Ohio, who was surgeon of Gen. Garfield's regiment during the war, came here soon after the president was shot and asked to be admitted to the president's room. Bliss replied that it could not possibly do the president any good to let Pomerine see him, and it might do harm, but promised Pomerine to submit his request to the other surgeons. He did so, and they flatly refused to assent to permit any visit from Pomerine. Bliss reported the decision to Pomerine a day or two later. Says Bliss: "Dr. Pomerine went to the White House, went through the reception room, up stairs, and slipped into the president's room while his surgeons were all absent from the room. While Pomerine was beside the president talking to him, Dr. Reyburn entered the room and very peremptorily invited Pomerine to leave." Bliss says that Pomerine sneaked into the president's room after having been refused admission. Because he was turned out he has since assailed the president's surgeons.

The Armenian Patriarch Writes to Garfield.

The following communication has been received from patriarch Armenians in Turkey:

Mr. President, Providence, which watches over the days of virtuous men in the service of free countries, has saved the illustrious president of the United States from a cowardly attempt against his life. As a servant of the Armenian church, who prays daily for all the chiefs of christendom I hasten to express to you my most felicitous sympathy as a representative of the Armenians of Turkey. I am happy to avail myself of this occasion, Mr. President, to be the channel of conveyance to you of the sentiment of high admiration which my nation feels for the government and people of the United States—a government which realizes all the dreams of the friends of liberty, and a people whose philanthropy obeys the highest precepts of religion and morality.

Invoking the benediction of heaven upon you and upon the people whose destinies you so nobly rule, and praying the All-powerful to hold your precious life in His keeping, I have the honor to be, Mr. President, your humble servant in the Lord Jesus Christ. (Signed), ARCHBISHOP NERCES, Armenian Patriarch.

Freak of an Insane Woman.

Early this afternoon a young woman appeared at the entrance to the executive mansion grounds attired in a bathing suit and applied for admission saying that she must see the president immediately or he would be dead in an hour. She had in her possession a miniature saw and vial containing a liquid. A crowd gathered around the female and one of the guards informed her that she would have to go with him. "What for?" she inquired. "Why," said the guard, "Don't you see what a sensation you are causing?" "That is not my fault," she quickly responded, "you are a policeman. Disperse the crowd." After demanding again to see the president and stating that she was just from Manhattan beach and that her husband was a fireman in Brooklyn, she suffered a policeman to take her in charge.

The cranky woman at the White House was a handsome young woman who gave her name as Mary Louise Reninger of Brooklyn. She said that she came from Paris especially to cure the president. She was sent to the government insane asylum. Under her bathing suit she wore the costume of a ballet dancer and variety artist. She was not violent.

Dr. Bliss on the President's Condition.

Regarding the president's condition, Dr. Boynton says that he is improving gradually.

How is the trouble in the parotid gland?

Ans.—It is apparently diminishing. It causes some pain yet, but the swelling has subsided so that it is scarcely perceptible.

Do you apprehend suppuration?

Ans.—Possibly, but it is not probable, now that the inflammation has been scattered. The president has nothing like a sharp appetite, but takes his nourishment without hesitancy. He still enjoys the gruel Mrs. Garfield prepares for him.

What do you regard as the most important feature in the case at present, doctor?

Ans.—The condition of the stomach is undoubtedly the most important feature now.

I suppose it is rather early to expect any perceptible increase in the patient's strength?

Ans.—Yes; he is still very weak.

This afternoon Dr. Bliss was asked if the president had malarious symptoms, and said that he had none at all. He has had a very comfortable day, has slept considerably and still retains food without annoyance.

Do you expect any suppuration from inflammation of the parotid gland? Ans.—Why the inflammation is subsiding and [illegible]. There is nothing to suppurate.

Isn't there danger of it appearing in other localities? Ans.—We do not think so.

The doctor was pressed for his theory of the [illegible] gland and did not deny that it was a fair assumption to believe that saliva had secreted in the gland to an unnatural extent during the time the patient was not taking nourishment through his mouth, but said, "[illegible]. He, however you will remember that I told you at the commencement that it was an unimportant complication, excepting the annoyance it caused the patient and my predictions have already been verified."

Points from the Sick Room.

The president passed a splendid day. He rested well and has been without pain of any kind. Dr. Bliss said [illegible] more confident of the president's recovery. The president has not [illegible] [illegible] He was shown a [illegible] [illegible] a break upon [illegible] while sleeping, but [illegible] weakness. The president expressed himself to-day as feeling well. This afternoon he asked, "Where's Bliss? I want him to give me a bath." He meant he wanted Bliss to sponge him off. Bliss says that the president has not lost over sixty pounds and that one who had not seen him would not suppose that he had lost that much flesh, as his beard conceals the thinness of his face. The president is not [illegible]

[illegible] A [illegible] at the White House to-night [illegible]. The doctor said that while it was possible for suppuration [illegible] there were no indications of any at present and the patient was doing as well as could be expected [illegible] the prospects are that the president will pass a comfortable night.

At [illegible] Dr. Bliss was questioned concerning a rumor in circulation to-night to the effect that the wound had been probed within a day or two to the depth of 12 inches. The Doctor replied that there was no truth in the rumor. Nothing like a probe had entered the wound since the curved instrument was inserted when the surgical operation was performed nearly two weeks ago. A sponge [illegible] only, he said, had been inserted at each dressing of the wound and this had never entered beyond the depth of two inches from the mouth of the last incision. The doctor was also asked about the condition of the patient at that hour and replied: "He is doing nicely. I have just sponged him off and he has gone to sleep again." His pulse he said was 108 at that hour.

Bulletin to Lowell.

[illegible] statement of the physicians the president has gained since last report. He has taken during the day 23 ounces of liquid food with relish and without tendency to nausea.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Capt. Howgate before the Court.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Capt. H. W. Howgate appeared before U. S. Commissioner Bundy to-day to answer charges preferred by Gen. Hazen, chief signal officer of the United States, of embezzlement of $10,0[illegible] while acting as disbursing officer of the signal service. The accused was supported by two attendants, and looked pale and enfeebled from severe illness. He was represented by counsel, Judges Wilson and Cuppy. Judge Wilson stated that as the captain's health was seriously impaired, and as he understood from the government's attorney that they are not quite ready to proceed with the case, he would ask the court to waive examination at present, and fix reasonable bail. He assured the court that his client would shortly be ready to meet the charges. Mr. Cook, for the government, stated that the amount charged in the affidavit as having been embezzled was over $10,000, but in the opinion of the officers of the government conducting the examination of accounts, this sum will be considerably increased, certainly to $50,000, and in all probability to a much greater figure, perhaps as much as $80,000. He acceded to the request of opposing counsel for adjournment, but thought, taking into consideration the large amount of the alleged embezzlement and the high position of the officer making the charge (Gen. Hazen), which was a guarantee of its truthfulness, bail should not be fixed at less than $30,000. Judge Cuppy claimed that this enormous bail was a virtual refusal of the privilege, and inasmuch as no preliminary examination, he held, could sustain the charges in the slightest degree, bail was excessive. He thought $5000 or $10,000 was sufficient bonds. There was no doubt entertained among the captain's counsel and friends of his vindication. Judge Wilson followed, referring to the good standing of the accused and his bad health. He had voluntarily returned to the city to refute the charges. The fact that the affidavit had been preferred by Gen. Hazen should have no more significance to the court than if sworn to by an inferior officer of the government and the statement of Cook that the embezzlement would exceed the original amount charged in the affidavit could certainly not be legally entertained as a reason for increased bail. Col. Cook said that the government was substantially if not actually ready to proceed. Judge Bundy declared the intention to deal with Howgate as if he was an ordinary criminal. He fixed the bail at $10,000. Counsel for Howgate said they would ask for postponement till Saturday, and if bail was not ready then would ask to go in instantly. It was so ordered. The accused will remain at his residence in the custody of the U. S. marshal. The punishment is $1000 fine and one to ten years imprisonment for the crime he is accused of.

Capt. H. W. Howgate, through his attorney, to-day made an assignment of all his property held in his name in the District of Columbia to Morris Peters as surety on his bond of $10,000. It is understood to protect Peters that the bondsmen will qualify before Commissioner Bundy to-morrow.

The Christiancy Case.

After a long recess, taking of testimony in the divorce case brought by old Senator Christiancy against his wife, was resumed to-day.

The Sioux-Ponca Arrangement.

The Sioux and Ponca chiefs met the secretary of the interior and Indian commissioner again to-day about the transfer of land to the Poncas. Red Cloud, speaking for the Sioux, said that they would give each Ponca family 640 acres of land and each Ponca without a family 60 acres; that the Sioux regard the land as properly belonging to the Poncas anyhow, because it was their former reservation and they left it unwillingly. Papers formally making the transfer were drawn up and signed.

Red Cloud asked about Sitting Bull. Secretary Kirkwood replied that Sitting Bull is in charge of the war department yet and the interior has no authority over him. Red Cloud said that the Ogallalas and Brules, who surrendered with Sitting Bull, formerly belonged to his (Red Cloud's) reservation, and he would like to have them back, and the secretary said that he would assign the Ogallalas to Red Cloud and the Brules to White Thunder as soon as provisions and supplies for them can be sent to these agencies.

The Romantic Style of Red Man.

During the Indian conference to-day White Thunder, successor of Spotted Tail, who spoke for the Sioux delegation, was quite dramatic in delivery. He spoke with forcible gestures and apparent eloquence when he said that the Sioux would let the Poncas have the land. Then Secretary Kirkwood inquired whether they expected the government to give anything to the Sioux for the permission given to the Poncas to live on their lands. White Thunder drew himself up proudly and said, "No, my friend. That's not what I want. You told me yesterday that I ought to have pity upon these poor Poncas. If I have pity upon them, I am not going to take their money. We give them the lands they need."

The time of arrival of her mails is therefore uncertain.

RAILROAD TROUBLES.

A Big War Brewing between Western Companies.

Boston, Aug. 19.—The strain on the relations between the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy people and Jay Gould is more than is likely to be borne and there is good reason for expecting war along the great railroads of the west beside which the contest among eastern trunk lines will dwindle into insignificance. In an agreement last year it was stipulated that the Union Pacific and the Wabash should keep out of the territory of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy in Nebraska. The C. B. and Q. agreed not to extend its line to Denver and the Wabash agreed to keep out of the Territory of the C. B. & Q. in Iowa, save that these two roads were to extend the Missouri, Iowa & Nebraska road [illegible] through southern Iowa to Omaha. During the summer the Wabash in violation of this agreement has built into Des Moines. This the C. B. & Q. considers [illegible] of the compact of 1880, but only grumbled. A few weeks ago the blood of the C. B. & Q. managers was again stirred by the organization of a company to extend the Missouri Pacific to the west bank of the Missouri and into the Nebraska territory of the C. B. & Q. The Burlington notified Gould's company that it considered that this was a violation of the agreement of 1880. Gould [illegible] and he proposed himself to build the West Shore road into Nebraska. The Burlington managers have, after a long conference, formally notified the Union Pacific and the Wabash companies that the compact having been twice broken, the Burlington company should act independently in regard to extension of its own interests. This, of course, means nothing less than an immediate extension to Denver. Gould then notified the Burlington company that if it built into Denver he would immediately extend the Missouri, Kansas & Texas from Quincy into Chicago, parallel with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy's Illinois lines. The C. B. & Q. then replied with a threat to build a mile in Kansas for every mile Gould built in Nebraska. Then the directors of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad company, the largest feeder of the Burlington began to inquire of the Burlington men if they desired to exchange all business the Atchison and Union Pacific companies furnished them for business they would have to hunt for from Denver, and, finally, President Strong entered a written protest of the Atchison towards extension of the Burlington toward Denver. Thus the matter stood a few days ago, when another complication arose by reason of Gould signing a preliminary agreement with representatives of the Atlantic and Pacific for a [illegible] under this company of the Texas Pacific, Atchison and Union Pacific interests as against the Central & Southern Pacific companies. Forthwith Huntington pledged $20,000,000 or [illegible] to the extension of the C. P. eastward parallel with the Union Pacific, if the Union Pacific interest was to make any war with his lines. Meanwhile the Denver & Rio Grande was at war with the Union Pacific over Colorado business. Now comes rumors of proposed alliance between the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Denver & Rio Grande and Central Pacific roads, as against Gould and the Union Pacific. Nothing yet is substantiated, but everything points to just such an alliance as reported. How far the warring factions shall go [illegible] press.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

An old Song.

London, Aug. 19.—In the commons debate on motion of supply continued, Forster, chief secretary for Ireland, in his speech said that nobody was more anxious than the government to release the land league prisoners but before this is done they must be convinced that peace and order could be maintained without resort to exceptional powers. If the successful men in Ireland would follow Archbishop Croke's example, there would soon be an end to all difficulty. Let them give the land bill a fair trial, and if they had a fair trial the government would be willing to concur in an appeal made to abandon the powers granted under the coercion act.

[illegible], home ruler, expressed the opinion that there could never be union between England and Ireland until the clique at Dublin Castle was raised, bag and baggage.

Gladstone said that the government had been asked why they did not submit the case of those who offended against the law to the tribunes of the country. This was exactly what had been done, but such was the state of Ireland that its judicial system was rendered nugatory. The government would be only too glad if they saw that the time had arrived to release the prisoners; but during the debate threats had been used that unless the prisoners are released there would be no fair trial of the land bill. This sort of language could certainly have no force in consideration of the government's duty. It was not by defiant speeches nor by the tone adopted by those who pointed across the Atlantic as the land from which the woes of Ireland would be assuaged, that the government would be induced to accelerate by one day the opening of prison doors. The paramount duty of the government was preservation of law and order. But he said that he fully adhered to the declaration of Forster that he would never use the coercion instrument for unnecessary coercion. Parnell's motion that the coercion act has not been administered in accordance with pledges of ministers when they induced parliament to suspend the constitution was rejected, 83 to 40.

A good little part of her foreign trade will be stimulated by her own act and along with it, [illegible] and good will which a profitable foreign trade does much to establish and maintain.

An official note was published here to-day [illegible] stating that France had [illegible] to break off negotiations with England for a new commercial treaty. It concludes as follows: We hope, nevertheless, that the disagreement is only temporary, and as there is ample time to treat before expiration of the old treaty in November that solution will be found of a nature to satisfy interest with the two great countries who have equal need of each other.

Land League Funds.

London, Aug. 19.—In the commons yesterday Chief Secretary for Ireland, Forster, during debate on a motion to go into supply, stated that he had made an analysis of subscriptions to the fund of the land league with the following result: Total receipts this year, £[illegible], of which £[illegible] was from the Irish. [illegible] Other American subscriptions amount to £[illegible] and there were from Great Britain £81, and from Ireland £162.

A Serious Charge.

More Money Coming.

London, Aug. 19.—In spite of the advance in bank rate, it is understood that some further sums will be taken for New York this week.

Attempt to Stamp out Assassination.

Cologne, Aug. 19.—At the international law conference to-day David Dudley Field introduced a resolution that it is desirable in extradition treaties where political crimes are excepted, that provisions be inserted that neither assassination nor attempted assassination as a means to affect change of government or redress of grievances shall be excepted as a political crime within the meaning of the treaty, and that the privilege of asylum be denied the perpetrators of such crimes. Field says that it was the feeling among Americans that assassination [illegible] which was carried by a large vote.

THE ROBESON TRIAL.

Examination of Witnesses Closed—Testimony—Argument of Counsel—Charge of Judge Stott—The Jury Still Out.

Fourth Day.

[illegible]

[illegible] the general reputation of the defendant for peace and quietness before the tragedy. The witnesses generally stated that it was good.

[illegible], called by defense, stated: Have resided in this city five years; keep a stock of [illegible]; was formerly interested with Williams and Robeson in cannery at Tansy point. Known defendant since 1866; have known him intimately and had business relations with him. His reputation for peace and quietness was good.

Cross-examined by Caples: Had heard him make threats about persons [illegible]. Yes, they were, I suppose [illegible].

[illegible] defense: Have never known him to follow up the threats he made, though he was talking [illegible].

To Caples: Supposed it to be [illegible] because I never knew of his carrying out the threats he made. The evidence of several of the witnesses, however, on this point was [illegible].

An effort was made by the defense to break down the testimony of an important witness for the prosecution, Mr. MacIntosh, who swore that he saw Robeson coming down the stairway from Robb's office about 15 minutes before the time of the murder.

[illegible] stated that he told Wright some days after Robb was killed that he saw Robeson coming down the stairs at that time.

Mr. Wright was called by defense and sworn. His testimony was: Keep [illegible] restaurant in this city on Main street; know McIntosh; have known him a little over a year; he boarded at my restaurant at the time of this occurrence, and some time before that, [illegible] the time Robb was killed, and slightly acquainted with the defendant.

Did Mr. McIntosh tell you, in his shop several days perhaps a month or so after the shooting, that he had seen Robeson come down the stairway leading from Robb's office on the day he was killed?

I do not remember that he did; there was a conversation held in regard to the killing of Robb; do not remember the particulars of the conversation.

Cross-examined: There was a great deal said in my restaurant about the killing; I do not profess to have treasured in my memory all that was said.

Mr. Noyes was also called evidently for the same purpose. An employe of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, since a year ago last February, have only known Robeson since his preliminary examination on this charge, remember the day of Robb's death, was in the telegraph office at the Occident hotel that afternoon, did not see the defendant. I was standing in front of the hotel opposite Warren & Eaton's store; stood behind a man who was taller than I am.

Witness pointed out on diagram position in which he stood in reference to Warren & Eaton's building.

I left a telegram in the office dated 4 P. M. and had gone to the front of the hotel; it was about ten minutes after leaving telegram I stood there. I saw Frank J. Taylor standing under the awning, at the door in second story to Warren & Eaton's building; did not see Robeson.

Cross-examined: Noticed Mr. Taylor particularly, thought he looked pale and sick, did not notice any other person particularly, for I was not looking for any one.

The defense rested their case at 11 A. M., and the court adjourned till 1 P. M.

When court convened after dinner, the large hall was soon filled, every available seat being taken and many being compelled to stand. The attendance of ladies was largely in excess of that of yesterday, attracted by a knowledge of the fact that an opportunity not often occurring in Astoria, was about to be offered in listening to the special pleadings of several shining legal lights, members of the bar in this state, in a case of absorbing interest to this community, which would afford each of them ample scope to display his ability. Nor were they disappointed. Judge Stott ruled to confine each side to three hours, which was an hour and a half to each speech.

Our correspondent has prepared a [illegible] synopsis of the speeches of Messrs. [illegible], H. Y. Thompson, W. Lair Hill who, owing to the severe indisposition of Mr. H. T. Bingham, was unexpectedly called on to address the jury in his place and the closing speech of Prosecuting Attorney Caples, [illegible] the judge's charge to the jury, which we regret the crowded state of our columns prevents us from publishing. It will be seen that the jury retired at a late hour last night to deliberate on their verdict.—[Ed.]

At 10:25 to-night Judge Stott closed his charge to the jury, and the fate of J. G. Robeson, charged with the wilful murder of J. W. Robb on the 20th day of April last, was committed to the hands of the jury.

A Rumor.

The Colonist says: It is rumored that the cause which led to the quick dispatch of H. M. S. Gannet for the Sandwich Islands on Monday arose from the fact that telegraphic information was received of the intention of the United States to gobble up Kalakaua's kingdom. It is added that the flag ship is steaming toward Honolulu from the South American coast and that the ships of other naval powers have been ordered to rendezvous there.

[illegible] WHEAT.

[illegible] markets of Europe [illegible] surprise [illegible] of America [illegible] condition of [illegible] sharp and take together, makes it sure that the increase the [illegible] has a [illegible] ahead. If the actual [illegible] of the market will be practically sustained. It may, indeed, show considerable further rise. For it is now certain that the surplus of our own principal wheat growing states, those of the Pacific states excepted, will fall much below what was expected down to a few weeks ago; while Russia is the only European country that has on the whole an average harvest. Cheap rates from the upper Mississippi and lake region, resulting both from the competition of the Mississippi barge lines with the railways and from the active war of the principal railway lines with each other, will rapidly carry the western surplus to the seaboard, so that after a short time there is not likely to be any great western reserve of wheat. Were it not for the uncertainties of the supply of tonnage and of the freight market for this coast we might very confidently expect an advance that in a month or two would give our farmers the old figure of one dollar a bushel, which, greatly to their misfortune, they have not realized for a long time. But here is the unknown quantity that baffles calculation. The province of a newspaper is to report facts, to present all the conditions, as far as possible, that affect a problem, and give readers a chance to form their own conclusions. It is now certain that the wheat supply of the world is below that of either of the last two years. Hence there will be a demand for the surplus of the Pacific—a stronger demand than for a long time past. But the tonnage problem has so defeated calculations heretofore that we may well be cautious how we entertain too high expectations. A good market for our whole crop would be an incalculable boon to the country. For the crop is large and the quality of unusual excellence; and even a moderately fair price would bring most of our farmers out of debt and set those who have been in sore straits for the last two or three years on the high road to prosperity again. The promise of all this is the most cheering thing the country has witnessed since the hard times for the wheat grower began with the rusted crop of 1879.

EXTRADITION.

The anxiety of the Russian government for an international extradition treaty, reminds the New York Times of the anxiety of the first Napoleon in the same direction. It says:

> The latter, during his rule of France as first consul, became irritated to such a degree by the virulence of the attacks made upon him by French journals published in London, as well as by the frequent attempts upon his life which emanated from the same quarter, that he at length attempted to force an extradition treaty upon England, threatening an immediate war in the event of a refusal. The English government felt little inclination to grant such a request so worded; but in order to leave no just ground of quarrel, Louis Peltier, the most venomous of all the French refugee libelers, was brought to trial in London. He was found guilty, despite a splendid display of eloquence in his defence by Sir James Mackintosh, but the premature outbreak of the war saved him from punishment.

And the New York Tribune accompanies its advocacy of the policy of delivering up Hartmann, the nihilist conspirator and murderer, by the following illustrations:

> For example, a Spanish officer named Arguelles captured in 1864 a cargo of African slaves, and instead of releasing them, as his instructions required, sent them into the interior of Cuba, sold them into bondage, and escaped to New York with his plunder. The offense was regarded as a peculiarly heinous one, and our government, at the urgent request of Spain, sent him back to Cuba to be executed. What was the sequel? In 1876, General Jovellar was informed by an American consul that Tweed was in Santiago de Cuba. Before he could take action the refugee had sailed for Spain, but the captain general telegraphed at once to the home government to have the coast watched. Every precaution was taken, and Tweed was arrested as soon as he landed at Pontevedra. Within twenty days he was surrendered to our government. One good turn had deserved another, and as a consequence of this exchange of good offices an extradition treaty between the two governments was concluded not long afterward. It may be that the promptest action consistent with law in the Hartmann case may open the way for a similar extradition code with Russia.

It pays always to act on sound principles in these cases. Men who commit heinous crimes are enemies of mankind, and as such deserve punishment. To them all authority is "tyranny." Naturally they want to be "let alone."

Southern journals tell us that drunkenness among the negroes of the southern states is promoted by the indiscriminate sale of liquors at the grocery and supply stores, by the practice of giving credit on such sales and taking mortgages on the growing crops and by the vile quality of the stuff sold for pure spirits. Yet these are evils wholly or in part removable. Wise reform measures would diminish the sales effected under these conditions, by one half or more, within a few years. If the supply stores which the negroes visit for making petty purchases were prohibited from dealing in intoxicating liquors, as they could by proper license laws, one source of the temptation would be gone. Again, debts created for liquors could be declared non-collectable, and every chattle mortgage based on such debts could be and should be made invalid. Finally state inspection should be employed for enforcement of heavy penalties for adulteration of liquors. It is a pity that the North Carolina reformers did not confine their efforts within these practicable limits. Had they done so they might have accomplished something; whereas by attempting absolute prohibition they failed utterly, being crushed by an adverse majority of 100,000.

Curious results are found by examination of the marriage statistics of New York for the year 1880, compiled by the Herald. Of American women, about 32 per cent took husbands of foreign birth. Of women of Irish birth many married Germans, some married Americans and a few married Englishmen. Of the persons of German birth who married, both men and women mixed considerably with other nationalities. The number of native American men who married during the year was 6970; while the number of men born in Germany and in Ireland who married in New York during the year was respectively 7968 and 11,026. Nearly all the nations of the globe are represented in the tables, making an exhibit which shows in a striking manner the cosmopolitan character of the city of New York.

The process of subdividing the large plantations of the southern states into smaller farms is steadily going on even in the states where the old system had taken the deepest hold. In Mississippi, for instance, there were 32,?? plantations in 1850 and the average number of acres in each was 370. Ten years later there were 68,023 farms, the average area of each being 156 acres. In 1880 the number of farms was 75,205, averaging 1?? acres each. What [illegible] is less than it was in 1850 the production of cotton is nearly [illegible]

THE AVERILL MIXED PAINT.

Beauty, Durability and Economy Combined.

The attention of consumers is called to the superior quality of the AVERILL MIXED PAINTS, which have been used nearly twenty years with great satisfaction, and for the following reasons. Its DURABILITY is acknowledged to exceed any other paint. Its BEAUTY and BRILLIANCY of finish are incomparable, even leading many to believe that varnish is employed in its manufacture. It can be washed or scrubbed without damage, retaining its original lustre. Fire-proof to a high degree. Its convenience commends it to all: ready for use; any man, woman or child can use it.

DEATH OF MISS CATES.—After a brief illness Miss [illegible] Cates died yesterday at 12:30 P. M., at the residence of Mr. Wm. L. Briggs, [illegible] Sixth street between I and J, in East Portland. The deceased was taken ill last Monday afternoon. She had been employed for several years as one of the teachers in the public schools at East Portland, a position she filled with credit to herself and satisfaction to all. Deceased was [illegible] years of age. Her parents reside in Nebraska, from which state she came about four years ago. The only relative here in Oregon is a sister, Mrs. Hutchins, who resides in East Portland. The funeral will take place to-morrow (Sunday) at [illegible] M., from the Baptist church. All friends who desire to take a farewell look at the remains can have an opportunity to do so by calling at the residence of Mr. Briggs between 10 and 1 o'clock to-morrow.

A WELL-DESERVED COMPLIMENT.—Capt. W. H. Besse of New Bedford, Mass., the managing owner of the Belle of Oregon and the Western Belle, in which vessels several of our leading men are owners, has contracted with the well-known ship builders, Messrs. Goss & Sawyer, of Bath, Me., to build a ship of some 1800 tons to be called the "Henry Failing," and to be commanded by Capt. Jacob Merriman, late commander of the Belle of Oregon. We wish success to the Henry Failing, and may she long sail the ocean bearing the honors of our highly esteemed citizen to the distant ports of the world.

FUNERAL.—The funeral of Mr. N. Holden took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and was very largely attended. Being a member of the A. O. U. W. and of the Odd Fellows, about 120 brethren turned out to attend the obsequies. The religious services were performed by the Rev. John Rosenberg, by whom the deceased had been married about eleven months ago. The services were of the most impressive character. The widow has the sympathy of the whole community in this, her sad hour of affliction.

HARVEST IN CLARKE COUNTY.—The Vancouver paper says: Harvesting is now being thoroughly prosecuted in Clarke county. Last week many fields of grain on Fourth plain were cut and some harvesting done. A large amount of wheat is cut and shocked and only awaits warm weather and the threshing machine. From all parts of the county reports come of an abundant yield. The farmers are anxious for warm weather in which to finish their harvesting.

TO MELBOURNE.—The American ship Kate L. Davenport, recently bought by Capt. J. C. Ainsworth, has been chartered by Dempster & Keys, of San Francisco to Melbourne with lumber. She has commenced to load at Wendler's saw mill and will have immediate dispatch. Her capacity is about 800,000 feet. She will take a cargo of coal from Melbourne to Hongkong and return here next spring with Chinese goods and passengers.

HELD TO ANSWER.—Alfred Saunders, arrested on the charge of an indecent assault on Bessie Fernander, a little six-year-old child, had an examination yesterday before Justice Bushwiler. The evidence of Saunders' guilt was conclusive, and the court held him to await the action of the grand jury, fixing his bonds at $2500. In default, defendant was committed to the county jail.

TO THE FLOWERY KINGDOM.—The OREGONIAN'S regular correspondent at Salem sends the following: George Sun, one of Salem's solid Chinese merchants, starts for the celestial kingdom next week. George has become greatly Americanized, and will return to Salem in a few months' time, bringing with him an almond-eyed damsel as his wife!

DEATH OF DR. A. M. BELT.

Many of our readers in various parts of the state will be grieved to hear of the death of Dr. A. M. Belt, formerly of Salem, at his home in Independence, on Thursday last at 8 o'clock P. M., in the 78th year of his age. Dr. Belt was one of the earliest settlers in Salem, where he had continuously resided until within the past 18 months, in the successful practice of his profession, and by his exemplary life won the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact. He was a citizen beloved by all, a father revered by his children, a husband fondly cherished by a faithful wife, a friend honored and esteemed by all favored with his acquaintance, and a man in the fullest sense of the word. No spot or blemish rested upon his character, and he was the very personification of integrity. He has for years been an active and consistent Christian, and an honored communicant of St. Paul's Episcopal church of Salem. He was also a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity, being a past grand master, having been elected grand master of the M. W. Grand Lodge in 1856, and still retaining his membership in Salem Lodge No. 4, of Salem, under whose auspices the funeral will be conducted.

By dispatch from Salem last evening it is learned that the funeral will take place Sunday at 2 o'clock P. M., from the M. E. church in Salem, Rev. John W. Sellwood officiating.

ALL HANDS BUSY.

Meeting an old timer who has been in the business and knows what advancement has been made in the art, we together sauntered into Towne's San Francisco gallery and there found all hands busy in the various departments. Mr. Towne gave us a few moments time in which we talked over the past and present of the business. Our old friend admitted times and things in the photographic business had materially changed. A casual glance at the work displayed, the new arrangement where the shadows are cast upon plate, the retoucher's studio, and lastly the printer's department, all told of the changes for the better. As to colors, that does not belong to the photographer's art, although every well regulated establishment has one or more first-class artists who color photographs—as is the case with Towne's gallery. Glancing at the luxurious arrangement of the office presided over by the head of the house, we concluded that Towne was in clover and that business was all that could be expected, with a large class of summering. Mr. Towne expects to make the usual grand display at the pavilion. With the present force the San Francisco gallery will go right on and be successful.

THE BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

Boston, Aug. 19.—The wool market is firm and prices are well sustained, with increased demand for fine and medium washed fleeces. Sales of Ohio and Pennsylvania have been at [illegible] pounds. No. X at [illegible] XX and above, [illegible] XX to be had under 45c. In Michigan fleeces sales have been upwards of [illegible] pounds at [illegible] and firm at these prices. Medium and No. 1 Ohio and Pennsylvania have been selling at 45@47c, and have been in fair demand. Combing and delaine selections are sought after, and are quite firm. The stock of fine delaine is very much reduced, and available lots having been bought up at [illegible] for Michigan and Ohio. Fine Ohio is selling readily at the latter rate. Unwashed combing has been selling at [illegible]. Territory wools are in great demand, and all kinds of unwashed wools are in fair request. Prices remain unchanged, low and coarse selling at [illegible], carpet at [illegible], Georgia [illegible], fine unwashed 23@26c, and medium [illegible]. In California wools very little is doing and held above views of buyers. Pulled wool is steady with small stocks, and super at [illegible] have been selling at 35@46c, as to quality. Foreign wools, quiet but stocks light and held firm. Since all long time, there has been large speculative business in all descriptions.

Corn reached the highest price of the season and it was there was a large advance. Cotton as a rule was fairly steady with a sharp advance at the close with prices 12 or 15 points above previous rates.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

New York, Aug. 19.—There is no improvement to note in the clipper freight market, and the best that can be said of it is that it is very dull. It is true that one of the lines gets off a vessel on an average every ten days, but it labors under the advantage, for the time being, of having a number of contracting shippers at rates somewhat less than those current, and this helps along materially. The Girard C. Tobey is loaded and will probably sail to-morrow. Her cargo comprises in part 400 tons of coal, 500 cases canned goods, 100 barrels beer, 1500 cases oil, 2400 kegs nails, 250 barrels cement and 50 barrels pitch. Tonnage on spot does not increase to any visible extent, but vessels are offered to arrive on a basis of 38 per ton dead weight. The Jane Fish, to load at Philadelphia, has arrived at that port, and the Levi G. Burgess, with a cargo of railroad iron, has sailed for Portland.

Markets generally are quiet, values are well maintained.

Wheat—1@1½c higher, but shippers have done but very little. Cable advices are stronger but still far below this market.

Pork—Dull, unchanged.

Lard—Speculative demand, 15@20c higher.

Rio coffee—Quiet, steady.

Refined sugars—Slow, firmer.

Turpentine—Dull, steady.

Petroleum—Firmer.

An Excited Market at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Grain markets were excited and uniformly higher to-day. The advance in wheat from yesterday's closing amounted to 2@2½ cents, in corn 3 to 4 cents, and in oats 2c. The chief factors in the rise were the unfavorable reports from the corn crop and improved condition of the president. The latter cut a less prominent figure to-day than usual, although advices from Washington were eagerly watched. No failures are reported on change, but two little bucket shops suspended. One of them resumed soon after. It is said that the heaviest business ever done on change was that of this week. It is said that several operators who came here from Wall street to take a little "flyer" in corn have netted $40,000 to $100,000 each and have pulled out. Gov. Routt of Colorado is said to have bought a million bushels of corn as he passed through here yesterday, expecting to hold it for a rise.

Heavy Business at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Old timers on 'change say that heavier business was transacted to-day than ever before in one session. The excitement at the opening was intense and continued throughout the morning and up to 1 o'clock, when the gong dispersed the crowd. The tendency was steadily up until the last hour, when with many fluctuations prices began to break, and there was at the close a very weak feeling and lower figures. Sales of September wheat were made at $1 23⅛@1 25½, and of Oct. $1 24@1 27¼. The clique set $1 34 as the selling price for wheat to-day, and considerable amounts were planted down on that basis. The feeling that grain was getting too high seemed to be the chief reason for the drop of 2 cents in wheat, but the syndicate were not among the sellers so far as could be learned.

Liverpool Wheat Quotations.

Liverpool, Aug. 19.—Breadstuffs—large business; higher prices; wheat 8@9s, Cala average white 10s 9d@11s, Cala club 10s@10s 3d, red western spring, 10s 8d@10s 11d; red winter receipts wheat during past three days, 132,000 centals, including 50,000 American.

Liverpool, Aug. 19.—A leading grain circular says that grain has been very firm in most provincial markets, with almost an entire absence of English wheat, which was 2s per quarter dearer. Cargoes off coast were strongly held in passage. For shipment, wheat is held for a shilling advance on spot since Tuesday. Wheat was in good request at a penny to two pence advance. In wheat, an average consumption and good speculative business was done, and prices improved 4d.

Flour—Advance of 3d to 6d was not readily paid.

Oats—Increased demand, and prices rather higher.

Corn—Influenced by American advices; advanced sixpence.

The San Francisco Freight Market.

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—The Commercial News' review of the freight market: Comparatively speaking, arrivals of the past week have been few, while the market though quiet has been sufficiently active to dispose of all disengaged tonnage that has come to hand, and several ships have been rechartered at good figures, securing handsome profit to original charters. A sharp advance in wheat abroad went in a great measure to the same staple here, but enough was secured by tonnage to keep the market up to the highest point of the season. Foreign owners have exalted views of the future of freights and chartering to arrive is less active on that account. Rates exporters are willing to pay, being too low to tempt owners. Some vessels have been fixed however at figures that show no indication of a retrograde movement. This strong position of the market has been maintained without an effort in the face of the supply of tonnage on berth, and if the strength of freights during the past month is any criterion of the future, there is little probability of any heavy decline for some time to come.

San Francisco Markets.

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—Wheat—Crazy, speculation is heavy and reckless. No. 1, $1 67½@1 70, No. 2, $1 60@1 65.

Barley—Wild and excited feeling; feed, $1 15@1 17½; brewing, $1 20@1 35, coast chevalier, $1 12½.

Corn—Higher, small round yellow, $1 17½; large do $1 12½@1 15; white $1 10@$1 12½.

Gold and Stock Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

Receipts—Wheat, 41,000 centals; flour, 15,000 qr sks; oats, 1761 ctls; potatoes, 1700 sks; eggs, 13,300 dozen.

Wheat—The market is excited and advancing. Among sales yesterday afternoon were 1000 tons of extra choice shipping at $1 65; among sales this forenoon were over 1000 tons ditto at $1 70; we quote choice and extra choice shipping at $1 67½@1 70.

Barley—The market is very firm; sale of 10,000 sks coast feed at $1 12½.

Corn—Small yellow sold to-day at $1 17½; large yellow at $1 12½.

Grain bags—Among sales this forenoon at auction were 250,000 Calcuttas at $7 65@7 80.

Butter—Receipts small, market well supplied with medium qualities, fresh roll good to choice 27½@32½c; strictly fancy commands 35c.

Eggs—Market is overstocked with inferior, we quote fresh Cala same as before; eastern, 17@20c; Utah, 17@20c.

Hops—Markets dull and nominal, common Oregon offering at 17c.

Provisions—The market is firm, bacon higher; Cala light 14@14½c, eastern light 15@15½c; shoulders, Cala 8½@9c; lard, eastern in tierces, 15@16c.

Salmon—Columbia river offering at $1 27½ for export.

Hides—Dry kip and calf unchanged; wet salted medium to heavy 10@11c.

ONE PRICE To All! ONE PRICE To All!

FACTS THAT ARE UNDENIABLE.

"TO THE VICTOR BELONGS THE SPOILS"

Such is the cry of UNSCRUPULOUS firms, who, in their endeavor to impose upon the credulity of the public, resort to illegitimate means to dispose of their wares. As an illustration, we quote from their advertisements a few of the many devices practiced by them, to-wit: "DOLLAR ARTICLES FOR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS, ROOM WANTED," and what is still more suggestive, EVASIVE LOTTERY SCHEMES, etc.

Influenced, as we are, by the legitimate principles of a square-dealing house, we deem it incumbent upon us to warn the public against the nefarious practices of the GRABBERS. And although it is neither our wish or desire to dictate to them HOW their business SHOULD be conducted, we do object to their sailing under FALSE COLORS. We would call the attention of the public to the glaring advertisements, in which a firm alleging to sell goods at ONE PRICE (?), marks an article one day at $6 50, and the next day at $2 00, and perhaps to-morrow the article may be worth $3 00, in that ONE PRICE (?) establishment. The persons who purchase the article at $6 50 and note the same article advertised on the following day at $2 00, cannot but feel that they have been the victims of imposition and misplaced confidence.

Such procedure surely has not the tendency to win public appreciation or an increase of trade, but manifestly demonstrates the fact that their business IS UNDOUBTEDLY conducted on the "SPOILS SYSTEM;" YOUR MONEY, WITHOUT VALUATION THEREFOR.

Such inconsistencies are against all force of reason.

WE, do NOT propose to give excessive valuation of a dollar invested with us, but a DOLLAR'S VALUE OF A DOLLAR'S INVESTMENT. ONE PRICE and EQUALITY OF TREATMENT IS EXTENDED TO ALL, REGARDLESS OF STATION. These are the doctrines by which our business has been governed since our advent as a Portland business firm, and which have won the well-merited support and patronage of the people of the Pacific coast.

DR. SPINNEY,

No. 11 Kearny street, S. F.

Treats all Chronic and Special Diseases.

YOUNG MEN

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM THE effects of youthful follies or indiscretion will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.
